Orthosis requires more than minimal self-adjustment for fitting at the time of delivery in order to provide an individualized fit

Item must be trimmed, bent, molded (with or without heat), or otherwise modified resulting in alterations beyond minimal self-adjustment; and

This fitting at delivery requires expertise of a certified orthotist or an individual who has specialized training in the provision of orthotics in compliance with all applicable Federal and State licensure and regulatory requirements.

Detailed documentation in the treating practitioner's records to support the medical necessity of custom fabricated rather than a prefabricated orthosis

This information is corroborated by the functional evaluation in the orthotist's or prosthetist's records.

Impression of the specific body part was made, and this impression was used to make a positive model of the body part; or

Detailed measurements were taken of the beneficiary's torso and used to modify a positive model to make it conform to the beneficiary's body shape and dimensions; or

Digital image of the beneficiary's torso was made using CAD-CAM technology which directed the carving of a positive model; and

Orthosis was then individually fabricated and molded over the positive model of the beneficiary
